THE CHINESE ACT.

Synopsis of the Restriction Bill now Before Parliament.

The act provides that every person of Chinese origin shall pay into the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada, on entering Canada, at the port or other place of entry the sum of "fifty dollars. The exceptions made are the members of the Diplomatic Corps or other government representatives and their suite and their servants, consuls and consular agents; and second: tourists, merchants, men of science and students, who are bearers of certificates of identity, specifying their occupation and their object in coming into Canada, or other similar documents issued by the Chinese government or other government whose subjects they are; and every such certificate or other document shall be in the English or French language, and shall be examined and endorsed by a British Consul or Charge d'Affaires or other accredited representative of Her Majesty, at the place where the same is granted, or at the port or place of departure; but nothing in this act shall be construed as embracing within the meaning of the word "merchant," any huckster, pedlar or person engaged in taking, drying or otherwise preserving shell or other fish for home consumption or exportation.

No vessel carrying Chinese immigrants to any port in Canada shall carry more than one such immigrant for every fifty tons of its tonnage; and the owner of any such vessel, who carries any number in excess of the number allowed by this section, shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars for each person so carried in excess. Masters of vessels shall be personally liable for the payment of the penalty.

Every master of any vessel who lands or allows to be landed off or from any vessel any Chinese immigrant before the duty payable under the provisions of this Act has been duly paid, or who wilfully makes any false statement respecting the number of persons on board his vessel, shall in addition to the amount of the fee mentioned in the next preceding section, be liable to a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars for every such offence, and in default of payment, such vessel shall be forfeited to Her Majesty. No passengers will be allowed to land until a permit to do so has been granted to the master of the vessel under a penalty of $100. Provision is made in the Act for the furnishing of a bill of health of the vessel by the captain. The persons prohibited from landing are specified; they embrace such as are known to be suffering from infectious diseases, or to any Chinese woman known to be a prostitute. Certificates will be delivered to immigrants who comply with the act. The controller shall keep a register of such certificates as have been granted. Immigrants arriving otherwise than by vessel shall forthwith make a declaration of his entry before the controller or the customs officer, and there pay the duty of $50, upon receipt of which a certificate will be issued. The entrance fee or duty shall not apply to any Chinese residing in Canada at the time of the coming into force of this act. Any person leaving the country after the passing of the act, may upon payment of $1.00 receive a certificate. Such as desire to reside in the country must notify the controller to that effect; a certificate will then be granted, the fee charged therefore being 50 cents. Provision is likewise made for lost certificates. The controller has to furnish a statement on the first of January in each year to the provincial secretary of the number of certificates issued and list of Chinese immigrants who entered during the preceding year.

Every Chinese person who wilfully evades or attempts to evade any of the provisions of this act as respects the payment of duty, by personating any other individual, or who wilfully makes use of any forged or fraudulent certificate to evade the provisions of this act, and every person who wilfully aids or abets any such Chinese person in any evasion or attempt at evasion of any of the provisions of this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding twelve months, or to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars, or to both.

Every person who takes part in the organization of any sort of court or tribunal, composed of Chinese persons, for the hearing and determination of any offence committed by a Chinese person, or in carrying on any such organization, or who takes part in any of its proceedings, or who gives evidence before any such court or tribunal, or assists in carrying into effect any decision or decree, or order of any such court or tribunal, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months, or to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars, or to both; but nothing in the section shall be construed to prevent Chinese immigrants from submitting any differences or disputes to arbitration, provided such submission be not contrary to the laws in force in the province in which such submission is made.

Every person who molests, persecutes or hinders any officer or person appointed to carry the provisions of this Act into effect is guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding twelve months, or to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or to both.

Every person who contravenes any provision of this Act, for which no special punishment is herein provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment for a term not exceeding twelve months, or to both, at the discretion of the court before which the conviction is had.

All dues, pecuniary penalties and other sources of revenue under this Act shall be paid into and form part of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada; but one-fourth part of all entry dues paid by Chinese immigrants shall, at the end of every fiscal year, be paid out of such fund to the province wherein the same were collected.

The Governor, in Council may engage and pay an interpreter, skilled in the English and Chinese languages, at a salary of not more than three thousand dollars per annum, to reside in the Province of British Columbia, and may assign to him such duties as he deems meet.

All suits or actions for the recovery of dues under this act and all other prosecutions under this act which are not herein declared to be misdemeanors shall be tried before one or more justices of the peace, or before the recorder, police magistrate, or stipendiary magistrate having jurisdiction where such dues are exigible or where the offence was committed.

This act shall come into force on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, except that certificates under section "thirteen" may be granted, in accordance with the terms of the said section, and that Controllers may be appointed at any time after the passing hereof.

THE RESCUED PRISONERS.

Mesdames Gowanlock and Delaney Loud in their Praise of the Half-breeds.

The prisoners rescued by Canon McKay and a party of Scouts, included Mrs. Gowanlock and Mrs. Delaney, John Pritchard and forty-two others are now safe amongst their friends in the east. Mesdames Gowanlock and Delaney are loud in praise of the half-breeds, who have protected them throughout. The half-breeds and the party succeeded in separating from Big Bear in the evening and were twenty-five miles east of the Strange battle ground when found. They knew nothing of Riel's capture, and all agree that Big Bear is in equal ignorance, and full of the belief in Riel's stories that the American troops are in league with the half-breeds and Indians. Big Bear, it is thought, has gone to Lorne lake, about sixty miles northeast of Pitt. If so, he will probably be captured by Middleton. It is now thought that most of the prisoners and the Indians themselves are on foot and short of provisions. The Maclean family, Mr. Mann and family, and two Simpsons are the only white prisoners now with Big Bear. Part of McKay's party branched off and got the rest of Defrenes family left in the bush, also other half-breeds and a number of Wood Crees who are expected here to-night. Bedson went out with two wagon loads of provisions for Middleton. Mrs. Delaney said she saw McLean on Monday evening and he was all right as before, but tired of walking. Of Adolphus Nolin, prisoner at Prince Albert, Mrs. Delaney also spoke in the highest terms, and says he risked his own life to save her and Mrs. Gowanlock.

The Lillooet Road Superintendent.

[COPY OF PETITION.]

TO THE HON. MR. SMITHE, CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF LANDS AND WORKS, ETC.

BIG BAR, April 17, 1885.

SIR,—The people of this district, having heard with regret, of the step the government has taken in the removal of Mr. W. F. Allen, our local board Superintendent, held a meeting at the House of Mr. Grinder on the above date to consider the matter.

The meeting was organized by appointing Henry Hink, chairman and J. Gallagher, secretary. It was unanimously resolved at the meeting that, We, the undersigned, believing that the government must have been misinformed as to the wishes of the people of this district, that there be a petition presented to you to reconsider action in the matter; as we believe there is no appointment can be made that would give such universal satisfaction in this district as the reappointment of Mr. Allen. Signed: Henry Hink, Phillip Grinder, Edward Moore, Robert Madson, Andrew Green, Alex Barnett, Malcom McLoud, Nicholas Hanlon, John Flonnan, George Caux, Moses Pigeon, Peter Collins, H O Bowe, Frank Chiaro, Henry Bowe, F McKay, F T Gottfreidsen, Conrad Kostring, Joseph Haller, John Gallagher, D Ecole, Anthony Twentyman, John Koster, John E Moore, Joseph Rosetti, Febis C iaro, Paul Rosetti, Augustine Botanie, Captain John Martley, Arthur H J Martley, Gaspard Isodore, W H Wright, I N Harris, Alex McWeem, Calvan Boyl, Nelson Harris, B Valeuyeula, Buena Ventura, Simon P Simone, Jesse Kent, S L C Brown, I M I Brown, I C Brown, William Fuller, Arch McKinlay, William Everit, William Favell, Jack Hudson, N Gustafson, W Dooley, John Marshall, Fabian Larochill, W Riley, John Bumgardener, Louis Mouralot, John Miller, W G Manson, Jacob Mundorf, Joseph Billmond, I R Felker, Wm Green, John Brodie, F C Clark, Peter Eagan, Joseph Hetherington, W Brown.

Probable Salmon Pack.

The light pack to date, says the San Francisco Journal of Commerce, and the lateness of the season have rendered it certain that the pack on this coast this year will be very much shorter than in 1884. The following are the estimates of reliable authorities:

Columbia river	cases	450,000
Sacramento	do.	60,000
Outside rivers	do.	20,000
Fraser river	do.	100,000
Alaska	do.	50,000
		680,000

This is about 300,000 less than for the past two years. Nearly all that has been packed on the Columbia has been shipped thence, and the stocks on the coast are very light. It thus seems as though later in the season there should be a notable advance in price.

Obstructing Rivers with Weirs.

Mention was made in THE TIMES of the fact that a weir had been thrown across the Cowichan river by Indians for the purpose of catching salmon and preventing the fish from ascending the stream. The same scheme has been resorted to on the Nanaimo river. Mr. Thos. Mowatt, of the Fishery department, New Westminster, visited the obstruction last week and ordered that the weir be left open from Saturday afternoon till Monday morning in each week, the same as they are doing at the Cowichan river. It also appears that a Mr. Stark had baskets fixed to catch the salmon as they jumped at the falls at Nanaimo and this also was strictly in contravention of the act, but Mr. Mowatt said it would be permitted if the catch was confined to the quantity necessary for the use of Mr. Stark and his family.

American Base Ball Association.

A meeting of the American base ball associated clubs was held in Philadelphia on the 7th inst. President McKnight presided, and every club of the association was represented. Rule No. 23 of the playing rules was altered, removing all restriction from the pitcher in delivering the ball so he keeps inside the "box." A pitcher can now deliver the ball as he chooses. The foul bound was abolished. To make a "put out" the ball must be caught on the fly. The home club, instead of the umpire, will decide whether or not the ground is fit to play upon. These changes take effect immediately.

A Montreal man has commenced an action for $10,000 against the city vaccinator for the alleged killing of his children by using impure lymph for vaccinating them.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

[While the columns of THE TIMES are open for the discussion of questions of public interest, to correspondents, it must be understood that it does not necessarily endorse, nor coincide with, the sentiments expressed by writers in this column.]

School Trustee.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—Do you not think, if even strictly legal, it nevertheless carries with it a bad impression? I allude to the late election for school trustee, as far as a certain J. P.'s name is connected therewith. The facts, of course, are well known to the public. In all matters that are conducted just and fair between man and man, no one man should have an advantage over another; all should stand on the same footing. What fairness, or honesty, of purpose, can there be in a government appointing a man a justice of the peace, on the eve of an election? That same individual going about the city canvassing for votes for himself and witnessing their signature, being himself a J. P. Of course there was no need of bothering the hard-working voter, you know, to hunt up a J. P. How very convenient, simply registering those votes he was sure would vote for himself. Could anything be meaner or more unjust in an election contest? How knowingly the new J. P. and Honest John must have winked at each other when they hit upon this, another fishy-looking piece of business.

SCHOOL BOY.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

A Portlander tells the "Oregonian" what he Observed.

James Lotan, says the Portland Oregonian of the 16th, returned yesterday from a three weeks' trip through the Selkirk range along the line of the Canadian Pacific construction. Mr. Lotan, who had roughed it a great deal throughout the northwest coast, says that this is by far the roughest trip he has ever experienced. Answering the inquiries of an Oregonian reporter concerning the progress of the work, he said that 120 miles were yet to be completed, seventeen miles west of the second crossing of the Columbia, and 103 miles east of the crossing. There is one stretch of thirty miles on which nor any other work performed. The remaining ninety miles are about half way graded. Mr. Lotan is of opinion that the road cannot possibly be finished before the 1st of next January, notwithstanding the published statements that the line will be open for traffic September 1. Muir Bros., who have the contract for building a tunnel 750 feet long, about thirty miles east of the second crossing, have not got to work yet, though they expect to commence operations very soon. They say they cannot complete the perforation in less than four months. They have the contract also for another tunnel about 350 feet long.

NOT A TREE HAS BEEN CUT,

ABOUT 3000 WHITE MEN are now employed on the work, and the company want 6000 more right away. The pay is $2 a day, and men may work a day and a quarter every twenty-four hours if they choose, of course getting additional pay for additional work. As it doesn't get dark until nearly 9 o'clock and is daylight about 3, there is no trouble about getting in the extra time, which many are doing. Board is $5 a week, and pie three times a day and three kinds of pie. Indeed, says Lotan, it is the greatest country for pie he ever traveled through, not excepting Yamhill county.

RUGGED IS NO NAME

for the Selkirk range. The wildest places in the Cascade range, known to human feet, are meadows compared with these wilds of rock and timber. One avalanche of snow swept down last winter on the line of the proposed road, the like of which is unknown in this latitude. It was three miles long and five hundred feet deep, and mowed down acres on acres of the largest trees as if they were pipestems. The snow lies yet to the depth of forty feet, and trains and horses travel over it daily. On the Illisilloet river, along which the railroad runs for a considerable distance there was a snow slide which completely dammed the river, and it took some time for the water to cut a channel through it. At this time the river may be seen flowing through banks of snow 100 feet high.

THE FRANCHISE BILL.

Twenty-eight Clauses out of Sixty-three Pass.—What Senators Say.

THE TIMES' Ottawa correspondent writing from the capital on the 6th inst., says: The House are at last making some progress with the Franchise Bill, having passed up to last night 38 out of the 63 clauses of the bill, and it is not unlikely that the measure may be concluded in committee in a day or two. It has been discussed every day this week, except Thursday, when the house did not sit, it being a public holiday. It is stated in some quarters that there is a division in the cabinet on the subject, and that Sir John Macdonald and Hon. Mr. Bowell, Minister of Customs, are the only two members of the cabinet who are in favor of pushing the bill through. However that may be, it now looks as if it would go through within the next few days. On Tuesday several amendments were offered by the opposition to the clauses providing for the publication and revision of the voters' list, but with one exception, they were all voted down. An amendment moved by the premier, on Wednesday and adopted, required that all proposed additions to the list shall require at least a week's notice, but that in the case of objections to names which are already on the list one day's notice may be given. Yesterday (Friday) Mr. Cameron, Huron, moved an amendment compelling the revising officers to take evidence on oath but it was defeated. When the House adjourned at midnight, the first thirty-nine clauses of the bill with an exception or two had passed through committee. This continuous discussion of the Franchise Bill has left no work for the Senate to do, and the other day they adjourned for a week. Some of the leading senators have, it is understood, intimated that if the Franchise debate is continued to the exclusion of all other business they will not hold themselves responsible to pass the bill in the upper house when it is sent up from the commons.

PROVINCIAL RIGHTS.

Conflict of Jurisdiction in the License Question at Farwell.

When Greek Meets Greek, &c.

[From a Farwell Correspondent.]

FARWELL, June 13.

The town of Farwell, Crossing of the Columbia, has been the scene of quite an excitement for the past few weeks. Mr. Sproat, S. M., for British Columbia, arrived here a short time ago and issued about 25 hotel and saloon licenses, charging the sum of $30 for the same for one month. Shortly after Mr. Johnston, Chief of the Mounted Police, arrived from the Beaver, and began to prosecute them for selling liquor within the railway belt in contravention of the Public Works Act, fining them generally $20 and costs and confiscating their liquor. They appealed and are bringing their cases to a high court. In the meantime a Mr. Rudd neglected or refused to take out a provincial license from Mr. Sproat, whereupon he summoned him to appear for selling without license. The case being plainly proved he fined him $280 and costs. Mr. Rudd's business is said really to belong to Mr. Johnston, chief of the Mounted Police, Mr. Rudd being only a servant. When Mr. Johnston prosecuted the rest for selling he never interfered with him. The matter came to a crisis the other day, when Johnston's officer made a second raid on John McGillis's and carried off twenty-one cases of choice liquors and deposited them in their barracks. Mr. McGillis thought he had enough of this business and immediately consulted S. M. Sproat, told him he paid for carrying on the business of hotel-keeper, and wanted protection in the same. A warrant was sworn out against Jonston's constables for feloniously removing his liquor. The warrant was placed in the hands of Constable Kirkup, who, with McGillis, repaired to the barracks and demanded the liquor. This the constable in charge promptly refused to do, when Kirkup, with one blow of his foot, sent the door to atoms and took the liquor away and summoned the constable to appear before S. M. Sproat to answer to the charge. When the time for the hearing of the case came on the court house was filled with eager and interested spectators, to learn the result of the case, but the defendant failed to appear. The magistrate then issued a warrant for his arrest, but when Mr. Kirkup went in search of him he learned that business of importance brought him east, no doubt in the direction of the Beaver, where the people here hope it may be of such a nature as to detain him there until this road is finished. Mr. Sproat is to be highly commended for the manly way in which he endeavors to maintain provincial rights.

The town of Farwell is slowly rising from its ashes with a better class of buildings than before the fire. Two new hotels are now nearly finished that will give ample accommodation and comfort to the travelling public. Every person who is at all acquainted with the place must concede that if the liquor business was to be suppressed the town would not be worth a dollar in a week. Business men and others are complaining of dull times, but expect a good time in the course of a month or two. GREEN.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

The Personnel of the New Cabinet.

LONDON, June 17.—The composition of the new cabinet has been partially settled as follows: Marquis of Salisbury, Prime Minister and Secretary of State for the Foreign Department; Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of Exchequer; Lord Randolph Churchill, Secretary of State for India; Sir Richard Assheton Cross, Secretary of State for Home Department; Right Hon. Edward Gibson, Lord Chancellor of Ireland; Right Hon. Wm. Henry Smith, will probably be Secretary of State for war; Col. Frederick Stanley, Secretary for the Colonies; Earl of Carnarvon or Viscount Cranbrook, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; Sir Stafford Northcote, Lord President of the Council; Sir Harding Gifford, Lord High Chancellor.

English Appointments.

LONDON, June 17.—Arthur J. Balfour, M. P. nephew of the Marquis of Salisbury, has been appointed Chief Secretary for Ireland; Mr. Holmes, Attorney-General, and Mr. Monroe Solicitor-General.

The Thunderer on the New Cabinet.

LONDON, June 17.—The Times, in an editorial, says the new Cabinet is a compromise between the rebuilding of the Disraeli Ministry and the infusion of new blood demanded by Lord Randolph Churchill. It is not a complete triumph for Lord Randolph Churchill, although his principal demands have been conceded. Misgivings are widely entertained that the cost of his rashness and interference will inflict injury in India at the critical moment, but he must work in harmony with Earl Dufferin and the Council of India. Lord Randolph Churchill probably insisted that the renewal of the coercion act be abandoned. Referring to Mr. Chamberlain's charge that 30,000 soldiers are maintained in Ireland to support the British rule, the Times asks him if he will be ready to acquiesce if Ireland wishes to separate when the restraining force is removed, and warns him from trifling for party purposes with the gravest Imperial interests.

Y.M.C.A.

The concert given last night under the auspices of the association, in the school room of the First Presbyterian church, was well attended. The chair was occupied by Mr. B. W. Pearse. Songs were well rendered by Mrs. Bamford and Capt. Prior. Mr. Jos. Wolf read an extract from Shakespeare's "Julius Cæsar," and afterwards gave two recitations in a happy manner. Instrumental music was given by a quartette, consisting of Messrs. Pherduer, Linton, Chambers and Biffen.

Gone North.

The Barbara Boscowitz left for the north this morning about ten o'clock, carrying the following passengers: Mrs Dr Praeger, Miss Halgson, J McAllister, R Cunningham, McNeil, Dodd, Jas Cray, E H Hill, J Sayward, Jas Moore, R F Walkem, Cecil Cook, Walter Jemson.

The need of more for producing personal aesthetics is due to J. C. Ayer's unrivaled hair vigor, whose incomparable Hair Vigor is a universal benefactor of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensable articles of the toilet. To merely look it gives luxuriance, and without it no toilet is complete with the line of youth.

THE population of Melbourne increased 18,281 last year, and is now 322,690.

DR. SCHLEIMANN will spend the coming winter in searching for the tomb of ALEXANDER THE GREAT at Alexandria.

THE PRINCESS BEATRICE will receive as a present from the Isle of Wight Beekeepers' association a silver bee with diamond-studded wings.

LORD ROWTON, formerly secretary and confidante to DISRAELI, is to be made private secretary to QUEEN VICTORIA.

GREAT Britain has in her navy fifty vessels capable of steaming around the world at a speed of twelve knots per hour without recoaling.

MEXICO is making rapid advances in industrial pursuits. She has eighty-seven mills which run 247,894 spindles, and 8745 power looms.

SIR JOHN LESTER KAYE has purchased 8500 acres of land on the Canadian Pacific near Balgonia, Assinaboia, where he will establish a colony. He will purchase 60,000 acres in the Sacramento valley, Cal.

ENGLISH naval newspapers are talking loudly about a certain ironclad called the Ajax, which cost $2,500,000 to build and now refuses to work. SECRETARY WHITNEY should look into the matter at once, as it is very evident that this vessel belongs to the U. S.

When vessels or timber sink to great depths in the ocean the pressure is so great that water is forced into the pores, and the wood becomes too heavy to rise again. Even when a ship is broken up the detached portions sink like lead. It is this pressure that makes it impossible for divers to descend to any great depth.

THE English delegates to the Plenary Suez Canal Commission at Paris has been instructed to continue to oppose the French proposals for a mixed commission of surveilance and to make counter proposals to vest the supreme power and supervision in the Egyptian government assisted by a consultative board of Foreign Consuls at Cairo.

NEGOTIATIONS are likely to be reopened between the United States and Germany regarding the position of minors born in America of German parents who after being naturalized in America take up their residence in Germany, Bismark being disposed to refuse such minors the right of residence in Germany except as German citizens.

RAPHAEL'S celebrated "Madonna di San Sisto," belonging to the King of Saxony, has been offered to the British government for the modest sum of $750,000. The painting is one of the most wonderful creations of RAPHAEL's genius, and was executed about 1517-18 for the principal altar of St. Sixtus at Placenzo, where it remained until the end of the last century, when it was removed to Dresden.

THE number of iron workers affected by the strike in the different States is as follows: Western Pennsylvania, 20,342; Ohio, 13,053; Indiana, 6284; Illinois, 14,594; West Virginia, 3454; Wisconsin, 1226; Michigan, 1000, Tennessee, 140; Kentucky, 151. One hundred iron mills and thirty-four nail factories have closed. The workmen are so confident of success that they propose the withdrawal by the workmen's conference committee of the concessions already made and the substitution of a demand for a renewal of the old scale.

THE dispute over the will of the late Duke of Brunswick has been amicably settled. The Duke of Cumberland will get about £800,000 and the King of Saxony about £250,000. The Dowager Duchess of Hamilton (PRINCESS MARIE of Baden) gets £50,000, and the same amount falls to the PRINCE ALEXANDER of Hesse (father of the Princess of Battenberg), to whom it will be an opportune windfall, as he has been in poor circumstances since the death of his sister, the late Empress of Russia, who gave him a large annual allowance during the last twenty-five years of her life. Two members of the royal family of Bevaria get £25,000 each.

UNWISE LEGISLATION.

The legislature of Manitoba during its recent session passed an exemption act for the protection of debtors' assets, which is considered by business men in the east to be a very unjust measure and one that must necessarily be productive of much harm to that province, especially so to the rural and agricultural population, for it will have the effect of at once curtailing credit being given to either the wholesale or retail merchant, the farmer, mechanic or artizan. If that province had other resources than its agricultural lands to depend upon, such for instance as are possessed by this province in her minerals, the forest and the stream, the products of which, at all seasons, bring money into the country, there might have been some reason for such legislation in the hope that long credits would be abolished and the "pay as you go" principle would thereby be enforced. The vast domain east of the Rockies is a purely agricultural one, and as such has to depend on the products of the soil which can be marketed but once a year. It is therefore absolutely necessary for the farmer to obtain credit from one crop to another. For this accommodation he has to pay enhanced prices for his goods and a heavy rate of interest on the money that may be borrowed on the pledged security of his farm, or his stock. A new beginner, unless he has a sufficiency of money to carry him along for a few years, finds it impossible to manage his affairs in any other way.

Unless disallowed, the recent legislation protects him and his assets to such an extent that creditors can scarcely hamper him. In cities, towns and villages, residences and their contents to the extent of $2500 are exempted from seizure.

Animadverting on the subject, the Hamilton Spectator, which to a certain extent voices the views of the traders of that city, says:

"Representative bodies may and do create unjust and unwise laws. In all ages and in all countries having popular institutions some check has been provided for this liability to err. In the United States, the governor of a state, or the President of the United States is a co-ordinate branch of the governing body; and the President and nearly all the governors have an irresponsible veto power. But in Congress, and in most of the states as well, the veto may be overborne if the vetoed law be re-enacted by the Congress or Legislature.

Under our Canadian system of responsible government we have practically no veto power in any provincial government, or in the Dominion government. The Lieutenant-Governor in the one case, and the Governor-General, in the other, are by custom and tradition, compelled to do as they are advised by their ministers, so that, as a check upon hasty, unwise or unjust legislation, they are of no avail. The responsibility of ministers will prevent unpopular legislation; but the Manitoba exemptions act proves clearly enough that it will not prevent unjust legislation.

The question to be asked just now is—Does the British North America Act leave us without a remedy for injustice? As we have seen the responsibility of ministers guards us against legislation repugnant to the popular will, and the courts guard us against legislation transcending the powers of the legislatures. There is not a reasonable doubt that the power of disallowance was put into the act of confederation to guard against injustice. The HON. GEORGE BROWN was familiar with the whole subject, and he certainly was not a man to betray the rights of his own province. When he said that the Governor-General was given power to veto "all local measures" as a remedy for injustice, he stated a simple fact in simple language which may be "understanded to the common people." That power is a necessary power. Without it our governmental system is incomplete.

ON POULTRY KEEPING.

The following remarks by an English writer will be found highly applicable to this province. Poultry keeping as is well known, is highly remunerative and one which makes but small demands upon the breeders leisure. "It is a notable fact that while high-born dames and gently-nurtured girls are seeking to taste the sweets of independence by earning their own living, the wives and daughters of farmers persistently neglect to improve the opportunities they have of increasing the profits of the establishments with which they are connected by the rearing of poultry and sale of eggs. And this at a time when agricultural business is sadly unprosperous. But these rustic ladies prefer the piano and the artistic joys of crewel work to the prosaic details of looking after a poultry yard. this certain source of profit being either entirely ignored by them or entrusted to a specially paid hand. The increase in the importation of eggs and poultry from abroad during the last few years has been very great—far exceeding what would be necessary if this branch of farming were not wilfully neglected in England; and a serious charge therefore lies at the doors of the female members of the English husbandman's household. They drive us to procure from foreign markets that which it is in their power to supply, if not wholly, in a great measure. This apathy to the interests of the country, if perservered in throughout other branches of industry, would be simply disastrous to Old England."

THE Spanish government has introduced into the Chamber of Deputies a bill to raise a $25,000,000 loan for fifteen years for the benefit of Cuba. The loan is to bear six per cent interest and be guaranteed by a Cuban stamp tax and by the Home government.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

LAPSE FROM GRACE.

[Ernest McGaffey in Inter Ocean.]

I was hard at work nailing up a box of books in my capacity as shipping clerk for S—— & Co. when Nixy Wiggins dropped in. It was in November, 187—, and St. Louis was snow-bound. Nixy said he was going out to his Uncle Bill's for a week's hunting, and he wanted me to go along if I could get off. I was mighty keen to go, for it was the popular opinion among the "Woodbine" boys that Uncle Bill Dukes' farm was right in the dead center of the happy hunting grounds. Mr. Dukes lived about 120 miles from St. Louis on the line of the Missouri Pacific railroad, and seven miles from the nearest station. I went up-stairs and proceeded to tackle Mr. P—— the "boss," on the subject of a vacation, Nixy waiting outside with his hopes and fears at a fever heat. Mr. P—— finally agreed to let me go, and I went out in the hall and broke it gently to Nixy. We leaped around on tiptoe, executing an impromptu war dance with a pantomime accompaniment to express our delight, and then proceeded to business. I was to get a pass to M— and back for Nixy and myself, and Nixy was to load himself down with shot, powder, caps, wads, etc., and meet me at the Union depot at 5 p. m.

I went to the treasurer of the Woodbine club, Jack O'B., and "struck" him for a pass, and got it without any trouble. Jack worked in a railroad office, and his motto was, "There's many a good thing lost in life by simply not asking for it." He never failed to ask for what he wanted whether he got it or not. Packing our valises full of ammunition, Nixy and I bid good-bye to our tearful mothers. "Be careful of your guns, boys; don't climb fences with your guns in your hands," were the last words we heard from our anxious mothers. Our sisters said: "It's a shame to kill those downy little rabbits. How can you be so cruel? And bring us a lot of wings to trim our hats with," all in the same breath. Some people think sportsmen cruel and unmanly. What a mistaken idea. A true sportsman is above all other men living a man with a tender heart. Search the trades and professions over and the men who love the rod and gun are the men to "tie to."

We got to the Union depot at 5.30 p. m. and boarded the train. At 6 o'clock the bell clanged, the driving-wheels of the engine whirled round and round, the conductor yelled "All aboard" — whoosh, whoosh, puff, puff—and we wound out of the dark depot. We passed the chimneys of Cheatenham, dived into the timber that surrounded Webster Groves, and then drew up for a little while at Kirkwood.

Then we steamed out into the night, past woods and prairie, and past little stations, where the small boys gathered to see the train come in.

They came each with a lantern and some few with black-glazed caps. They did not expect to meet any one and no one expected to meet them. But they walked jauntily around the platform, talked about No. 6 and No. 10, got on and off the cars, and got in the way of the trainmen. They looked pityingly at the passengers, and seemed to consider them very small specimens of extremely small potatoes. Finally, as the train pulled out, they waved their lanterns and fled off to their respective homes, apparently contented and happy. Each and every one of them yearned—yes, actually yearned—to be a brakeman.

About 9:30 o'clock, as Nixy and I were playing "California Jack," a sad, sweet murmur floated through the car. It was the usual snorer.

He was, in this case, a heavy-set German, with a most ferocious mustache. His repertory was varied and interesting. Commencing with the echoes from the Brocken, he renewed his acquaintance with traditionary memories of the chanting Lorelei. He finally settled down to a steady thing by tying himself up in a knot and moaning like a disconsolate turtle dove.

Nixy and I put up a job to spike his guns as soon as we got to M——, provided our cousin German still held the fort. We came to M——at last, and Uncle Bill was there to meet us. An instant before the train started Nixy discovered (?) that he had forgotten a box of wads. He rushed back to the car—Fritz was still snoring—grabbed the little glass at the cooler, filled it with cold water, poured it in Fritz's ear at one clap, and skipped off the rear of the train as it drew out.

Dear old Fritz; wouldn't he have given several kreutzers most willingly to have had Nixy in his clutches for a few seconds. His yellow hair streamed in the air as the train rattled past. His broken German and heartfelt maledictions were wafted to us from the back platform as we waved him a fond farewell from the station.

Uncle Bill was glad to see us. He stood five feet seven in his store boots, and he was nearly three feet wide. He was built from the ground up like a butcher's block. With his curly shock of yellow hair, his yellow beard, and big blue eyes, he looked like a descendant of Odin, or of Smid, the son of Troil.

He had fought at Chicamauga and been in Libby prison, but had come back from the war as sound as a stave of seasoned hickory. Before and during the war Bill Dukes was "one of the boys," so to speak, happy-go-lucky and reckless. He never went to church nor cared anything for religion.

He bought a farm and rented it to tenants, and spent his time riding around the country speculating. At every dance he was sure to be on hand, and at all barn-raisings, corn-huskings, and hog-killings. The shotgun, rifle, and fishing-rod held many a charm for him, and he had been a mighty hunter in his day. Deer, turkeys, and prairie chickens had fallen before his steady aim by scores, and many a teal, mallard, and springtail duck had died in midair at the crack of his shotgun.

He knew where the black bass lurked and that a shining minnow was sure to attract their attention. His old "coon" dog Ring was the best for miles around, and many a moonlight night had Bill and a lot of kindred spirits, with axes and dogs, made the heavy timber resound with the music of the chase.

That was when he was young and wild, but time and circumstances had changed and softened him. He had the good fortune to meet Mary H—— at a quilting bee, and the rare, good judgment to fall in love with her deeply. I have heard Uncle Bill say that Mary was as pretty as sunlight on running water, and that she danced as light as a fairy when she was a girl. She had soft brown hair, blue eyes, and a quiet, winning manner that made every one who knew her love her.

She was of rather a religious turn of mind before she married, and afterward she joined the Methodist church and became a shining light. For Sister Dukes was good and womanly as well as religious. After they had been married nine years Uncle Bill began to be slowly drawn into the vortex of religion, and when I knew him he was all but converted outright. The only reason I believe that kept him from joining the church was the occasional "laborings" they had with him. Very often Aunt Mary unobtrusively and silently drew from him a half promise, but the deacons would spoil it.

They would come, and the sisters, too, sometimes, and "labor" with him as they called it. Now when Uncle Bill saw a deacon coming to labor with him who had rather overreached him in a trade it made him wild in a minute. And if a woman neglected her children and her household duties to "labor" in the vineyard of the Lord, Uncle Bill was too obtuse to see the needs of the sacrifice, and then the deacons and sisters would shake their heads and agree that Bill Dukes was mighty set in his ways.

We reached the house, and tumbling into bed slept the sleep of the righteous until morning. An early breakfast of ham and eggs, hot biscuit, potatoes, and hot coffee being disposed of, we struck out for Cold creek, half a mile from Uncle Bill's. We wanted the bob-sled and the mule, Yellow Jack, but Uncle Bill could not spare them, he said. We reached the timber, which was low and bushy, interspersed with hazel thickets and brush heaps. Here we started in, and had hardly entered the edge of the brush when a flock of quail buzzed up from under a fallen log. Nixy got two birds with his right-hand barrel and a miss with his left, while I dropped a hen bird with my first barrel, but reserved my second barrel. As we stepped forward a fine cock bird jumped out and wheeled in a semi-circle over the thicket, but I was ready for him and killed him clean. We reloaded, and as Nixy was shaking the snow from his birds a rabbit hopped out of a nest of leaves and was off like a streak. Nixy dropped the quail, brought his gun to his shoulder as quick as lightning—bang. "How can you kill those downy little rabbits, Nixy," I said. We tramped the brush faithfully until 2 p. m. Through briers and over the old stake-and-rider fences, along a hedge or two, and over hill and hollow. Then we started for home with our hunting coats filled with game. Nixy had got a snap-shot at a prairie chicken, and was lucky enough to bring him down, and had besides eight rabbits and thirteen quail. I had five rabbits and eleven quail for my quota and a terrible appetite for a square meal. When we got to the house Uncle Bill regaled us with thrilling accounts of the game he had seen on Brush creek, two and a half miles from his place. We begged for Yellow Jack and the bob-sled for next day, but Uncle Bill was obdurate. He also said he had seen near home a certain sheep-killing dog which he was dreadfully anxious to kill in some way, and he described the dog to us and said he would give $5 for his ears.

We promised to give that purp a mighty warm reception if he ever came near us. After supper was over Uncle Bill got out the family Bible to read a chapter, as was his custom of late. The huge stove glowed with the heat that sprang from its oak and hickory contents. The tin doors of the cupboard sparked cheerfully, and the lamplight beamed on Uncle Bill's yellow locks. The cotton window curtains were drawn half aside, and the snow lay like a great white mantle as far as the eye could reach. The children were gathered in their little chairs near the stove, and every one listened in respectful silence. Uncle Bill began reading in a serious and meditative manner, and finally reached the last verse in the chapter. Clearing his throat he continued: "Because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, had slain Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor in the land." Closing the Bible softly, his eyes wandered to the window. Then he said: "The forty-first chapter of Jeremiah ends thusly: 'By —, there's that dog!'" The first part of this sentence was uttered in a solemn tone, befitting the surroundings, but the last part of it leaped from his lips in an involuntary exclamation of surprise. The dog had trotted around the corner of the house and loomed up in bas-relief on the show just as Uncle Bill got to "thusly." The sudden apparition was too much for him, and he forgot everything except his intense desire to make an end of that miserable sheep-killing cur.

He rushed to the gun-rack, snatched his heavy double-barreled duck-gun, opened the back door and sneaked around the corner of the house. In a few seconds we heard snap—snap—and then he came racing back again. "Who in the name of all the saints together has been meddling with this g-n tarnation blue blazes, who has had it, I say?" "Oh pa," said little Lucy Bell, "Andy Henderson borryed it a Friday morning to kill a hog, 'n I reckon he forgot to load it when he fetched it back." "The devil fly away with Andy Henderson," howled Uncle Bill, furious with rage. "Where 'n thunder 'z the amunition," he shouted. On getting it he poured in the shot first and the powder next without even a bit of wadding to separate them. Then he started to put some more shot on the powder, and realized that he was getting things mixed. So he poured the stuff out on the floor and began again. Putting in the powder first, and then some paper, he next gave the wadding a nervous little tap and then poured in a big grist of shot. Then capping the gun hastily, he tore frantically out in the snow, crawled cautiously around the corn-crib—no dog. Around the haystack—no dog. Back of the smoke-house—there he was; there he goes, and pop, pop, puff, puff, the shot fizzled out in the snow about ten feet from the muzzle of the gun.

Uncle Bill had poured about ninety-nine hundredths of his powder on the floor instead of the barrels of his gun, on account of his tremendous excitement. The dog by this time was over the hills and far away, evidently suspecting sinister designs. Uncle Bill trailed back to the house the maddest man I ever saw. His very whiskers twitched with wrath. He was too mad to speak. Aunt Mary didn't say a word, not even "O! William, how could you!" The rest of us were afraid to peep for our lives. Nixy and I slept in the spare-room right over Aunt Mary's bedroom, and that night after we went to bed we heard Uncle Bill's deep voice talking low and kind of trembly, it seemed to us. In the morning he took us to one side and said: "Boys I'm mighty sorry I set you such an example last night, and I don't want the Hendersons or Lot Mc Cord or anybody round here to get hold of it. I'd never hear the last of it. I guess I can spare Yellow Jack and the bob for you while you're here."

We told him we wouldn't tell any one—over the right shoulder. We crossed our hearts, and hoped to die if we would, and he let us have the mule. We had a glorious week and when we ran short on ammunition Uncle Bill told us to go to Potrie's crossroads and get all we wanted on his account. When Mark Barr, Hooder-on's hired man, took us to the station, he said: "I tell ye now boys, William Henry Harrison Dukes is jest a snailin' feller, if ye ony take him right. Taint every man 'ud let you boys shake round with a rig to hunt in, 'n furnish ye amanition too." We said Uncle Bill was true blue, and just bully, and so he was. He was precious careful after that lapse of his and he never mentioned it again to Nixy and me. We used to go out every year, and he was always as good as gold to us. We kind' a thought, especially Nixy did, that it was the devil in the shape of a black dog that came to tempt Uncle Bill. To catch him when he wasn't thinking, and trip him up. Nixy and his old man said the devil was always up to something of that kind.

But I will never forget the thrilling intensity of Uncle Bill's tones or his eager look as he glanced out on the snow, and said, Bible in hand: "The forty-first chapter of Jeremiah ends thusly. By —, there's that dog."

Petroleum to Supersede Coal.

[Chicago Herald.]

It is the opinion of many British engineers that the English coals will gradually cease to be sent to the Red sea or to the Mediterranean, and even the Red sea, as the use of petroleum refuse in engines becomes better understood. Already it is the only fuel in use on the Caspian, either in the mercantile marine, in the Russian gunboat flotilla or on the railway, and even in the domestic stoves it is in favor throughout the Caucasus. At present in the countries of the east much oil refuse is poured into the sea as the only way to dispose of it.

Lead Us Not Into Temptation.

[Arkansaw Traveler.]

Little Minnie's mother had several times spanked her for going out onto the street. The other day as the groceryman was leaving the house, Minnie called to him and said:

"Come back an' shut the gate."

"Why?"

"So I can't get out."

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—The farmers of Saanich will picnic on the 1st of July.

—The Scotsmen of Nanaimo will hold a picnic on Dominion day.

—There are now seven patients in the Nanaimo hospital.

—No new licenses were granted at the Burrard Inlet license court on Monday.

—The weather still continues warm and pleasant. To-day was the warmest of the season.

—It is stated that the silver mine near Yale will soon be opened out and thoroughly tested.

—The Moodyville sawmill is again running full time, and there is quite a foreign demand for lumber.

—Mr. Catterall has secured the contract of Mr. Pooley's house on Esquimalt road at $5000.

—It is now ascertained beyond doubt that no workable coal seams exist on Quatsino Sound.

—The Amities have challenged the Nanaimo base ball club to play a game here on the 1st of July.

—Mrs. Robert Jenkinson, aged 67 years, a native of Derby, England, died this morning.

—At the meeting of the athletic club last evening Mr. J. H. Hawthornthwaite was elected a member.

—Grain for feeding purposes is now selling at 7 cents per lb. at Farwell, while hay realizes a figure considerably over $100 per ton.

—Within the past few days water in the Fraser river has been rising, and large quantities of drift wood are going down.

—Mr. W. L. LeBallister, of Nanaimo, who returned from Oregon last week, brought over several fine horses and mules—the latter being for use in the Wellington collieries.

—Sheriff McMillan has commenced the erection of a new residence on Cormorant street, on the site of his old dwelling, which has been moved to Fisgard street.

—Mr. George W. Swett, late manager of the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, has accepted a position in the Canadian Pacific railway as superintendent of the first-class rolling stock.

—The Olympian brought freight to-day for: T J Mallock, W Harkins, Marvin & Tilton, Fell & Co, S J Pitts, A & W Wilson, Gutman & F, A Onderdonk, H Saunders, J West.

—Sergt. Major Kinsella was presented on Monday last, by Captain Pittendrigh, on behalf of the New Westminster Artillery company, with a valuable watch, as an expression of appreciation of his efforts to perfect the drill of the company.

—The Nanaimo Free Press says that the British Columbia members will feel the evils of the protracted parliamentary session at Ottawa more acutely—financially and socially—than those whose homes and business are within easy reach of the capital.

—The New Westminster license court sat on Monday last. An application for transfer of the Occidental license from Jno. Austin to J. A. Webster was granted. E. F. Holt applied for a beer license for the Flag restaurant, but the application was unanimously refused. There were no applications for liquor licenses.

—The following arrived from New Westminster by the Yosemite: Mrs McCulley, Miss Gosnell, Mr and Mrs McInnes, Mr and Mrs Newby, J S Clute, J A Webster, T J Trapp, J McBride, Grant, Theo Davie, Capt R Sharp, C H Gibbon, W T Kellenbach, J O Culver and Murphy, Officer Hussey, J D Benson and others.

—The man Loveall, who was arrested and taken to Cowichan on Monday, on the charge of having sold liquor to Indians on Salt Spring Island, was tried before a magistrate and acquitted. His arrest, he claims, was entirely unjustifiable, as there was not the slightest ground for the suspicion that he was the culprit other than a similarity of names. He is now looking for redress.

—Nanaimo Free Press: The British Columbia members feel it their duty to remain the entire year at Ottawa if necessary, so as to be found in their places when the Chinese Restriction Act comes up for discussion and action. It is highly important that the members from this province should remain in their seats, for the Restriction Act is one of vital importance to the future welfare of our people.

—Mrs. Ella Hibbs, wife of the Lewiston ex-postmaster, whose arrest at Harrison river was announced yesterday, has returned to her father-in-law's house in Yamhill, Oregon. She is greatly distressed over their troubles and seems entirely heartbroken. A short time ago and before the defaulter had gone to the Mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Hibbs were boarders at a well-known boarding-house on Pandora street.

Illegal Votes.

We are credibly informed that a large number of illegal votes were registered in Yates street ward, and that about fifty or sixty of them were recorded at the late election. Both ladies and gentlemen, who are neither householders or freeholders in that ward, but whose votes were by some stretch of the law allowed to be registered, were brought to the polls and their votes recorded. There would seem to be something very loose in a law that permits of such things; or perhaps the moral sensibilities of electors who will subscribe to an oath that they are residents of Yates street ward when they live in Johnson street ward, or vice versa, is so blinded that with them "smartness" and "perjury" are cognate virtues.

Mica Miners.

A passenger from the upper country informs us that the party who started out a few weeks ago for working the Mica mine, are all detained by high water at Deception river, about fifty miles from the Cariboo wagon road. This river is a raging mountain torrent, about seventy yards wide in the flood time, and is supplied from snow melting in the mountains. The men have been getting out timber and will bridge it. Most of their time this year will be occupied in making a road to take in provisions, etc.

For constitutional or scrofulous catarrh, and for consumption induced by the scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It has cured numberless cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin. *

TOWN OF FARWELL.

The Railway Bridge over the Columbia—Provincial License Act, &c.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

FARWELL, June 13.

The temporary bridge over the Columbia at Farwell opened to-day for teams. Foot passengers are charged 25 cts. The construction of the railway bridge on the piers will be forthwith begun. Some critics think the piers of bad construction and too light. The railway bridge will be a deck bridge on a Howe truss, 28 feet above the piers. The river is rising rapidly; weather very hot lately. Mr. Sproat has lodged an objection to the proposed bridge as stopping navigation. I suppose the provincial government will see to this. What more requires their attention is the extraordinary action of men holding provincial commissions in attacking the and thereby endangering provincial revenue. The general opinion here is that an enquiry would show great irregularities, to say the least, on the part of the mounted police. One of them was charged in the district lately with an assault on a woman, and another was charged, two days ago, with stealing Mr. McGillis' liquor; Mr. Sproat sent Mr. Kirkup to the barracks for it to be identified in court. The policemen were very angry, but Mr. Kirkup fetched the whisky.

MEANING BUSINESS.

Folks here are beginning to realize that the Dominion government means business. It is said that in getting the goods a door came into contact with Mr. Kirkup's leg, with bad results to the former. Several liquor cases have been appealed and the Chief Justice's arrival is anxiously looked for. The place is very orderly now, and new men arriving every week to invest. The only disturbing element is the Dominion police.

THE STEAMER FROM LITTLE DALLES

(U. S.) makes her trips with great regularity. The very efficient Customs officer, Capt. Wm. Moore, accompanies her on every trip. Ainsworth's foreman, Thomas Hammill, a fine young Cornishman, was shot and killed at Kootenay Lake on the 1st by Robert E. Sproule. A reward of $500 is offered for the murderer's apprehension.

MR. M'GILLIS' HOTEL

(formerly at the Oriental, Victoria), is nearly finished, and another equally fine one, called the Farwell House, will be opened in ten days. The latter is owned by Mr. Wilson, a very enterprising American gentleman. Two men on the Arrow Lakes lately robbed their mate of $400, watch and chain and revolver, and left him on the shore. The steamer picked him up.

MINING IS MUCH TALKED HERE.

Everyone hopes of good news from Big Bend. We had a view of Mr. Sam Adler's pleasant face as he passed through the town lately on his way thence to Victoria. A record has been made of an argentiferous galena claim on west side of McCullagh creek, some 40 miles up the Columbia from this place. Miners speak well of the ore specimens at the court house here. There will be no county court business owing to the difficulty of serving debtors, but there will be a murder case, and the liquor license appeals.

NO TRAIN TRAFFIC TILL VERY LATE.

Nobody here thinks that an engine can be got through to Moody before very late in the year, and certainly no traffic trains until spring or next summer. The mountain division of the line afterwards, will require many local changes and much finishing. I will drop you a line after the supreme court has been held here. The trail which the government are making for five miles hence to the head of the Little Dalles is nearly finished.

Farwell, 13th, June, 1885.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. R. A. Cunningham, of Port Essington, returned home to-day.

Mr. J. S. Clute, Customs Collector, New Westminster, is in the city.

Mr. Theo. Davie returned to-day from the mainland.

Messrs. J. A. Webster and T. J. Trapp, New Westminster, were passengers by the Yosemite to-day.

Rev. Dr. Stebbins, pastor of the First Unitarian church, San Francisco, arrived in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Dr Praeger has gone on a visit to Metlakahtla, and is expected to return by the next steamer.

Mr. J. Gray left to-day for his home on the Naas river, where he is engaged in fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dunlevy and family leave to-morrow morning for their home at Soda Creek. We wish them a safe trip.

Mr. Frederick Hussey, government agent at Yale arrived in the city to-day, having the defaulting Lewiston postmaster in charge.

Dr. Clarke and T. J. Trapp, of New Westminster, were passengers by the Yosemite to-day and are registered at the Oriental.

Messrs. J. G. Culver, of San Francisco, and J. J. Murphy, of Salem, Oregon, two detectives who are tracking the defaulter Hibbs, came down with him to-day, are at the Oriental.

Mr. F. J. Grant the genial joint editor and proprietor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, who has been in the city for a couple of days returned home this afternoon.

Mr. H. Helgesen, M. P. P., went north to Rivers Inlet on the Boscowitz, which sailed to-day. His visit is in connection with starting operations at his fishing grounds there.

Messrs. Hawkins and Cole, contractors for the Kamloops wagon road, arrived in the city to-day and are at the American. They brought ten men from Seattle to work on the contract, and will leave for the mainland to-morrow.

Passengers by the Olympian to-day were: W Davidson, J Davidson, A R Colburn, M McAllou, J F Murray, F Hoffman, Miss Nightingale, Miss Tainsworth, F H Eharie, H Anderson, A Erickson, M Lee, M Doyle, W Harkins, W Jackson, B Fegan, O Lenkly, H Jones and wife and two children, J West, J Thomas, J Keller, J Williams, L Ulman, W S Bush, C Blumm, C Thomas, W Harley, J Sarcot, F Reynolds, A McCulsky, F Lebsie, H Dyer, J Nightingale, M McCulloch, Miss Armstrong, W Cassock, Mrs McCulloch and 3 children, J P Matthews, C O Larsen, Miss Belotis, J Thompson, J McGinnis, T Merrit, J A Cole, W Adams, J McNaught.

CITY COUNCIL.

The regular weekly meeting of the City Council was held last evening. Present: Mayor Rithet and Councillors McKillican, Smith, Teague, Braden, Ward, Grant, Earle and Warner.

Minutes of former meeting read and adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Thos. L. Kempster, calling attention to the condition of sidewalk on Cook street. Referred to street committee.

From Jno. D. Ross, for permission to use part of Broad and Fort streets for building purposes. Granted.

From D. M. Ellis, calling attention to the condition of sidewalk corner Store and Johnson streets. Received and filed.

Councillor Earle said that the work of repairing this sidewalk had commenced and in a few days it would be finished.

From E. B. Morgan, clerk Calvary Baptist Church, asking that a quantity of loose rock on Herald street be removed, as a church was about to be erected. Referred to street committee with power to act.

From Samuel Sen, asking for the refund of $2 poundage fees, paid last Sunday, because he did not know the law was in force on Sunday, and he had thought that the street on each side was common pasture. Received and filed.

From Arthur Porter, stating that a small retaining wall was needed at the foot of Telegraph street, and offering to complete the work on condition that the corporation give him the rock.

Moved by Councillor Smith and seconded by Councillor Braden that the request be granted. Carried.

WATER FOR THE GAOL.

An application was read from W. S. Gore, Surveyor-General, on behalf of the Hon. Commissioner of Public Works, for authority to make a connection with the water main, at the junction of Saanich road and Topaz Avenue, to secure a supply of water for the new gaol, for fire and general purposes.

Councillor Grant asked if the proposed building was within the city limits?

Councillor Ward opposed granting the request, on the ground that the new building was outside of the city limits, and there was already an insufficient supply for the residents of the city.

Councillor Braden said the gaol should have a main for fire purposes if none was permitted for general use. The new building was just outside the city limits.

Councillor Grant suggested that the question be allowed to remain in the hands of the Water committee for a week or two.

Councillor McKillican said the city was under an obligation to the government for using the gaol and should give them the pipe asked for, provided they would draw water at night into a tank. He moved that the authority be granted.

Councillor Warner seconded the motion. It was merely a transfer from the old to the new gaol.

Councillor Grant moved in amendment that the matter be left in the hands of the Water committee, with power to act.

Councillor Smith seconded the amendment. He had no objection to the government getting the water, provided it was drawn at night, but he would object if it was taken in the day time.

Councillor Ward did not approve of either the motion or amendment. This council had no power to sanction the proposed request. An injunction might be granted by the court.

Mayor Rithet thought it would be a pity to put any obstacles in the way. We must all admit that it will be a great advantage to remove the gaol from its present site, and the wishes of the government should be granted if possible.

On the question being put, Councillor Grant's amendment was carried.

From S. G. Rayner for the use of North Park street for building purposes, was granted.

From Allsop & Mason to have the sidewalk on Kane and Quadra streets graded and planked, and offering to pay half the cost of the lumber necessary. Referred to Street Committee to report.

STEAM DRILL.

Councillor Earle moved, seconded by Councillor McKillican that the Street Committee be authorized to purchase an additional steam drill, cost not to exceed $425. Carried.

THE OVERDRAFT.

Councillor Ward moved the first reading of a by-law to arrange for an overdraft of $35,000. He said that formerly a resolution of the council was deemed sufficient to authorize the borrowing of money, but he believed a by-law was necessary. A resolution left them individually responsible. Motion was carried and by-law read a first time.

REPORTS.

From Sergt. Flewin, sanitary officer, reporting a number of nuisances. The report was taken up seriatem and proper instructions given in each case.

From the Fire Wardens, that there is a large quantity of inflammable material in the rear of Messrs. Weiler & Fell's property, Fort street. Adopted and notices ordered to be served.

From the sanitary committee, in reference to the drain at the Deluge Engine House. Recommendations ordered to be carried out.

From the street committee recommending that the application of Heywood and Lipsett, for a sidewalk on Douglas street be refused, and that Kings road be metalled and a six-foot sidewalk be laid. Report received.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Councillor Ward called the attention of the sanitary committee to the revival of a nuisance in Mr. Smilow's field. A lady living in the neighborhood has recently been taken ill. It was moved and seconded that proceedings be taken against the offenders.

Councillor Smith said in reference to a better water supply, he had found that it was not possible to devise any similar project to the one that had been defeated and the subject could not again be brought up this year.

Councillor McKillican stated, on the application of Mr. Inge for refund of poundage fees, that he had no claim whatever.

Councillor McKillican suggested that the Yates street pipe be connected with the Fort street pipe, and that a valve be placed there in order that that portion of the city might receive a better water supply. He moved that it be referred to the water committee to report. Carried.

Councillor Smith proposed that the annual visit to the water dam be made on Friday of next week, starting at 9 a. m. This was agreed to and Councillor Smith was delegated to make the necessary arrangements.

This was also agreed to and council then on motion adjourned.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Edwin Johnson, Esq., S. M.)

Morgan Hughes was charged with unnecessarily beating a horse, the property of Mr. Bruce. He admitted the offence and was fined $5 and $6 costs or fourteen days.

Will Not Accept.

THE TIMES has authority for stating that Mr. Dalby will not accept the seat in the school board vacated by Mr. Chambers even if asked to become a trustee; neither will he be a candidate for that position, if a new election takes place.

THE LEWISTON POSTMASTER.

He is Brought to Victoria and Put in Gaol.

The defaulting postmaster of Lewiston, Idaho, Isaac N. Hibbs, who was arrested at Harrison river a few days ago, was brought to the city to-day and lodged in gaol. The government agent at Yale, Mr. Hussey, had charge of the prisoner, and he was accompanied by Messrs. J. G. Culver and J. J. Murphy, two U. S post-office inspectors and detectives, who have been for some weeks past following the fugitive. Mr. W. F. Kittenback, President of the Lewiston National bank and one of Hibbs' four bondsmen to the sum of $10,000, and who has also been searching for the defaulter, with the view of getting him to disgorge enough money to cover his liability, also formed one of the party. From the latter gentleman our reporter learned that has until recently borne an unblemished reputation; but getting mixed up in a charge of theft preferred by the post-office authorities, of which he was innocent, it is supposed that he resolved to make a big haul and flee the country. He adopted a scheme by which it was possible for him to have robbed the government of hundreds of thousands before being detected. The money order blanks were utilized and a great many money orders, each to the amount of $100, the largest sum allowed, and payable to fictitious individuals, were issued and cashed at various banks. By this means he SUCCEEDED IN GETTING OVER $20,000.

When arrested at Harrison river the other day, the sum of $10,573, in American bank notes, was found in his pockets, and this sum is now in the possession of the gaol authorities here. The warrant for his apprehension was issued by Mr. E. Johnson, and specifies that on the 7th of April last, in Lewiston, county Nez Perce, Idaho, I. N. Hibbs did maliciously forge a post office order and a letter of advice relating to said order. The prisoner, of course, and will be able at the proper time to exculpate himself. He did not until hard pressed, strive to avoid arrest; but in carrying so much money on his person, when he knew that he was liable to be taken prisoner at any moment, he did not evince the usual precaution of an accomplished rogue. He will probably have a preliminary hearing in court to-morrow, and an effort to extradite him will be made. Hibbs is of the opinion that they will not succeed in the application, and that he will be a free man again in a few days.

CLAIMS THAT HE IS INNOCENT

Explanatory.

A lady correspondent to a friend takes exception to the reference in THE TIMES to the burial of the late Mr. A. L. Brown, of Happy Valley. Our reporter is not conscious of having mis-stated anything in this connection. He did not hint, or even imply, that it was a case of suicide. He did not state that there was no clergyman present, although that inference might possibly have been drawn from the last item, which said that "Mr. Hayward and one or two others performed the last and rites." At the time of writing he did not know that a clergyman had read the burial service at the cathedral and cemetery. Necessarily there are errors in daily papers, due largely to the difficulties encountered in getting information and in substantiating rumors heard in a casual way on the streets; but reporters are not responsible for the misconstructions placed upon their articles by readers. In the article complained of there was nothing to offend any person, and even the expression "a corner of the cemetery" cannot be construed as disparaging to either the living or the dead.

Supreme Court.

In the Supreme Court to-day, in the case of Rodillo vs. Pearcy, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him $200 damages.
